The Richmond News Leader says: School teachers in the state are being victimized by a bold gang of swindlers.

Reports have reached the department of public instruction that there are men in a certain section who are claiming to be examiners or inspectors of schools, and that they are selling subscription books for the benefit of teachers, charging exorbitant prices and forcing the poorly-paid teachers of the country districts to pay for the books.

Mr. Eggleston said today that he had received a letter from an examiner saying that he had come across one of these men, and that the country teachers were being swindled right and left. The im-poster, it seems, goes to teacher and represents himself as an inspector, telling the teacher in charge of a school that he is selling the book with the endorsement of the department, that all teachers are required to provide themselves with copies. When a teacher says she or he has not the money with which to pay for the book, the impostor assumes charge until the money is raised with which to make the cash payment.

Mr. Eggleston has also been informed that men are traveling in other parts of the state and are selling books to teachers by subscription at extravagant prices, the claim being made that all the teachers in the state will be required to supply themselves in case they desire to retain their positions as teachers. This has the effect of forcing the teachers to pay cash for the books.

President Stevens was asked yesterday as to certain complaints from Pocahontas county, W. Va., in the vicinity of Marlinton, as to the poor condition of road-bed and track of the branch line extending from Ronceverte, on the main line, to Bartow.

It was alleged in a circular sent out from Marlinton that old iron and ties were used in the construction of the road, and that no ballast had ever been placed, and the ties were rotting, and the road dangerous to travelers thereon. Mr. Stevens stated that he had just visited that road and made personal inspection of it. The complaints, he believed, originated in a sort of "round robin" instigated by several gentlemen. As a matter of fact, he said, the road was built only six years ago, and some 60,000 new ties had recently been put in. Many of the old ties were in good condition and would have done good service, but in putting in the new ones all the old, good and bad, had been removed, and the new ties had been put down continuously as far as they would go, with the result that the portion of the road not renewed was in worse condition than it would have been had the ties been put in with discrimination.
The president stated that he would have no hesitancy in riding over that branch road, and he was not fond of risking his life, either. He declared that there had been but one accident to a passenger train, and that not serious, and that wrecks of the same character occur quite as frequently on the main line as on this branch.—Times-Dispatch

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures the grippe, coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package.
Refuse substitutes. Dr. K. H.
Trimble.

What Restrained Him.

A stranger in a small town wanted the advice of a lawyer and he came upon a sign which read, "A.
Swindle, Attorney-at-law." He entered the office and after receiving the necessary advice said that the lawyer was a fine man, but he wanted to know why he made his name sound so ridiculous and why he did not put his first name in full.

"I would," replied the lawyer laughing, "if my first name was not Adam."—X.

A Fine Farm For Sale

Having decided to move back to Staunton, I will offer for sale m-farm in Bath county, 1 1/2 miles from Bratton's bridge on the C. & O. R. R., four miles east of Millboro and 5 miles west of Goshen, on the waters of Mill Creek. The farm contains 700 acres, mostly level bottom land and cleared of rocks, well watered with springs and creek. It has a comfortable 9 room house and all necessary out-buildings in good repair, close to schools, church, postoffice, and is in one of the best neighborhoods in the county. For further information apply to

Throws Bomb In Bank.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—Unknown man demanded money of the Fourth Street National Bank this morning and being refused, he threw bomb, blowing himself to pieces and killing assistant cashier Melear and injuring several employees and patrons, two of the latter fatally.

Jan. 6.—With the finding to-day of the personal effects of the man who threw the bomb in the Fourth Street National Bank Saturday, killing Cashier W. Z. McLeary and himself, there is little doubt left in the minds of the police officials that he was Rollo Steele, formerly of Garner, Iowa, later of Lynchburg, Va.
The bomb-thrower was found to have slept Friday night at the Grant House, a hostelry on the outskirts of the center of the city, frequented mostly by the respectable working people. The man registered as J.
R. Steele, of New York. He arrived about 7 o'clock Friday night and engaged a 50 cent room. He carried a grip, which he refused to allow the colored porter to carry to his room.

When detectives searched the room to-day they found several yards of blow fuse, a number of detonating caps, a revolver, a box of cartridges in the grip, together with a number of tools and some clothing. There was a suit bearing the tag of a Chicago clothing house, and a pair of overalls marked with the name of a Lynchburg merchant. There was also a waybill for a box shipped over the Southern railway. As Rollo Steele was reported to have been in Chicago and Lynchburg, the latter place within a few days, the police say there is little doubt of the bombthrower's identity.

Wise Counsel From The South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will cure this distressing condition.
The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy. Sold under guarantee at K. H. Trimble's drug store. Price 50c.

The Lynching Record

The lynching record is one that ought to be carefully considered, however humiliating it may be to those who regard the orderly execution of the laws of our country as absolutely necessary to the attainment of the highest ideals.

"A New Orleans dispatch to the Boston Transcript places the total number of lynchings in the United States last year at 72. Two of the victims were white men, one a negro woman, and the other sixteen negro men. The crime charged to the white men was murder, as was also that charged to the negro woman. Of the 69 negro men, 14 were charged with criminal assault, 19 with attempted murder, 31 with murder, and the others with such offenses as stealing a calf, stealing a silver dollar, carrying a loaded pistol, making improper proposals to white women and miscegenation."

Those who advocate lynching for assault on women may be startled somewhat when they see that not one fifth the lynchings were for this crime, and some of them at least may realize their share of responsibility for all these lynchings, in that by approving lynching for one crime they help to break down the laws and make it easier to lynch for other crimes.

It is wholly illogical to suppose that we may condone the violation of one law, and not lose power to enforce all laws.

It is subversion of orderly government to advocate or condone lawless methods of punishment for crime. On the contrary the more heinous the offense, and the more outraged the public conscience, the stronger the influences for good government in an orderly quiet execution of the law as it stands on the books.—Staunton Dispatch.

Public Renting

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Highland county, rendered at the November, 1906, term, in the chancery cause of James C.
Lightner vs. Morgan Pleasant, I shall, as commissioner thereby appointed, offer for rent at the front door of the courthouse of Highland county, on the 18th day of January, 1907, a tract of land situated about two miles east of McDowell, on the western slope of the Bull Pasture mountain, and north of the Staunton and Parkersburg turnpike belonging to the defendant, Morgan Pleasant, containing 460 acres, more or less.

Terms of renting: The property will be offered for the shortest number of years that anyone will take the property and pay a sum sufficient to pay the lien and costs of the suit and sale, with sufficient cash in hand on day of sale to pay the costs of suit and sale, and the residue in equal annual payments falling due at the end of each year from the date of said renting, the renter to execute bonds for the deferred payments with good personal security thereon.

A. L. JONES, Com'r.
I, J. C. Matheny Clerk of the Circuit Court of Highland Co do hereby certify that the bond required in the above named cause has been executed according to law.

$50,000 Fire In Cass

One of the worst fires ever experienced in the Greenbrier Valley wiped out the Brooklyn section of Cass Sunday morning. The fire originated in Jacob Cooper's Department Store, near a back window about one o'clock Sunday morning and when discovered was under such headway that Mr. Cooper and his family, who live in the upper story, were barely gotten out in time to save their lives. From this building the fire spread to adjoining ones, and in an incredibly short time eleven houses were on fire, and very little of their contents could be saved.

The heaviest loser was Jacob Cooper. He lost his entire stock of dry goods and general merchandise, which he valued at $15,000.
The building he occupied was owned by Samuel Sheets, and is known as the Dyard building. His loss $2,000, partly covered by insurance.
Cooper carried but little insurance.
Adjoining Cooper were the Bird and Slavin buildings owned by Dr.
Austin. His loss is $3,500. It is not known whether he had any insurance or not.

Elmer Burner had three buildings occupied by Finger's general store, Crosses restaurant and the other by J. W. Graham, valued at $3,200 with some insurance.

Wm. Ayers, the old drug store now occupied by Joe Griffith's restaurant $1,400.

C. L. Hamilton, barber shop, $1,000.

Joe Griffith, household goods, etc. $2500.

W. B. Cross, restaurant, $1000.

S. B. Rosewell, restaurant, $800.

John Herbert, barber shop, $250.

J. W. Graham, $500.

David Finger, stock of general merchandise, loss $9000, some insurance.

This leaves no buildings in Brooklyn except a few dwelling houses and makes a barren waste of the business section of Cass.
How the fire started will remain a mystery. We have heard it stated that the window near which the blaze was first seen was broken, but it seems this cannot be authenticated.

While all the buildings stood within a few feet of the water's edge they were so close together and the fire was so fierce that fighting proved of small avail.

C. L. Burner, who had an undertaking establishment in the burnt district, was able to save his stock.
He had just received a large supply, but it was still in the depot.
Jacob Cooper was not so fortunate.
The day before the fire he had in stalled a $500 cash register and it was burned with every everything else he possessed.

The insurance covers perhaps a half of the aggregate loss and there will probably be no trouble in collecting it. Preparations are being made to rebuild at once.—

VIRGINIA:

At Rules held in the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Highland county, Dec 19, 1906

Mrs. Jane I. Tennent, Pltff against In Chancery

Chas. S. Robb & others, Defts

The object of this suit is to enforce partition of 1100 acres and 100 acres of land conveyed to the plaintiff by deed from J. E. Ervine and wife, dated Sept. 26, 1890, and to have all questions affecting the legal title thereto settled by the court, and particularly to settle the alleged title to a parcel of said land containing 50 acres conveyed by said J. E. Ervine to Amanda S.
Ervine by deed dated August 27, 1890 which said defendants, Chas.
S. Robb and The Dunmore Lumber Co., claims to hold as 404 acres in fraud of the rights of the said plaintiff.

And it appearing from affidavit filed that Chas. S. Robb, The Dun-more Lumber Co., J. E. Ervine and Amanda S. Ervine are non-residents of the state of Virginia, it is ordered that they appear here within fifteen days after due publication hereof and do what is necessary to protect their interest.

Space For Counties

The Virginia commission has at its disposal 9,500 square feet of space in the state's exhibit building. The commission has decided to set aside 2100 square feet for such counties as express a desire for space in which to make a special county exhibit before the 1st of February, 1907. At that time the 2100 square feet will be divided among such counties as apply in proportion to population. If any county is allotted more space than it can creditably fill such spaces will be reapportioned by the commission. The county exhibit must be installed in such manner as the commission may approve. The space is given free to the county's together with services of care-takers to look after the exhibit during the exposition. The counties must pay for collecting, transporting and installing their exhibit. Mr. Clark, who will in all the state exhibit,

Phone 636 receives $1.50 per square foot for installing. This includes every cost except the raw product. 150 square feet is amply sufficient for any one county. About 13 counties have already expressed a desire to make separate exhibits. Any inquiries relative to the character and method of making an exhibit should be addressed to Capt. Julian G. Pratt, No. 8 South 10th street, Richmond, Virginia.

For further information it may be stated that the Virginia commission expects to make the finest display of minerals, lumber, agricultural and horticultural products that has ever been made by her before. Robt. W. Withers, Sec.
